

Hellenic Association of Consulting Firms (HELLASCO), Greece
Dear President, Petros Petrakopoulos

Secretary General, Andreas Loukatos

Board Member, Stavros Fessas

Thank you for sending heartfelt and encouraging message.

Fortunately those who live in Tokyo and south of Tokyo are safe. Some of our members living in the vicinity of the devastated district are suffering from the disaster. However, they have started working for recovery.

As you hear from news media that devastation and destruction caused by the Tohoku-Kanto Disaster is beyond anyone's knowledge. More than 15,000 people are reported dead and missing. In addition, accidents in nuclear power plant are creating additional danger. Prime minister, Mr. Kan is taking initiative to bring the danger under control.

Though we are very much heartbroken by the loss of lives and destruction, we are also encouraged by rescue crews from many countries who dispatched to devastated district.

I am sure people in Japan will overcome disasters as we did in the past. Above all, warm support and spirit of concerns from HELLASCO are most encouraging.

Thank you.

Sincerely yours

Yoshihiko Yamashita (Secretary General)
