

Panos Antonaropoulos, Executive Director and President of Z&A Consulting engineers Group of companies was born in Athens, Greece in 1957 and received the Diploma of Civil Engineering in 1980 (MSc). He started his professional career 35 years ago. In 1990, the collaboration with Konstantinos Zeris led to the establishment of a consulting company E' class (Top Rated). At that time Z&A was involved in the Design and Supervision of various water related public works, some of which are among the largest studied and constructed in Greece.

While the company had developed significant activity in the European Region in studies funded by the European Union, Panos Antonaropoulos, anticipating of the Greek economic crisis, led Z&A in its first steps in the international market, being awarded with contracts in the Middle East, Asia and Africa. Throughout the years, Z&A has developed experience combined with international engineering practices and has co-operated and built working relations with some of the largest European Consulting companies in the field, in projects funded by the European Union and other International Organizations such as the World Bank, the Millennium Challenge Corporation (MCC), the European Commission, the French Development Agency, the African Development Bank etc.

Z&A Group of Companies is now active in, in Asia (India) and in Eastern and Southern Africa, with its head Office located in Athens Greece the International market office in Nicosia Cyprus and branches in Greece (Athens), Ethiopia (Addis Ababa), Kenya (Nairobi), Zambia (Lusaka), Port Louis (Mauritius) and India.

During the period 1998 to 2007 Panos Antonaropoulos was a member of the board of Directors of Hellasco (Hellenic Association of Study Offices). More specifically, he served as a Deputy Secretary-General during 2000 to 2001 and General Secretary for two years 2002 to 2003. From 2004 to 2007 he was the Chairman of the Board of Hellasco. During that time, he was actively involved in the promotion of the activities of Greek companies in the international market and represented the association in EFCA (European Association of Companies of Studies).