

Alexandros Nikitas is a Civil Structural Engineer (NTUA) and an MSc in Civil Engineering graduate of the Technical University of Munich (TUM). He is the founder of “Torsion Structural Engineering”, a Structural Design Firm based in Athens Greece (Halandri).

He has a long experience in structural engineering projects (buildings, bridges, rehabilitation & strengthening) as an engineer as well as a design manager.

Alexandros is passionate about teamwork, creativity, and imagination through a productivity lens.