Eurobridge 2024: How to ensure bridge safety?

Join EFCA on 5 April as we take part in the third Eurobridge conference, which will highlight the worsening state of bridge safety across Europe. The event will be held at Hotel Le Plaza in Brussels. Register using the link provided below, to hear experts explore the potential maintenance strategies, flag the environmental repercussions of neglected maintenance and repeat the call for enough well trained technicians and engineers to uphold bridge safety standards within the EU.

EFCA signs joint letter on the European Water Resilience Initiative

To mark World Water Day this Friday, EFCA has signed a joint letter to the European Commission with 25 other European associations, to call for the abruptly shelved Water Resilience Initiative to be put back on the policy agenda. With this year's theme being 'Water for Peace', we want to highlight the importance of implementing an ambitious and Europe-wide water strategy, in ensuring economic, social and environmental stability for all citizens. As water supplies deplete, our coalition calls upon the European Commission to uphold its commitment and deliver the Water Resilience Initiative, making water a top priority for the next mandate. Put simply and starkly, 'there is no resilience in Europe without a water-resilient Europe'.

EFCA secretariat welcomes new intern Helki Kerrigan

Helki Kerrigan, currently pursuing her bachelors degree in Politics and International Relations at the University of Bath, has joined the team as our Policy and Communications Intern, as part of her placement year. From the UK, she moved to Brussels last June and has since gained experience in other member associations. She brings her knowledge and enthusiasm for EU policy and communications to our Internal Market, Digitalisation & BIM and European External Action Committees, as well as assisting external communication activities. Helki will also be supporting the organisation of our upcoming General Assembly and conference in Madrid, the latter featuring our intensive work on the much anticipated EU Blue Deal.
