FIDIC 2017 Contracts Reprinted with Amendments in 2022 presented by ECV Consultancy Ltd

The tutors for this comprehensive and interactive course were David Heslett & Marcus Theil both very experienced international engineers and certified FIDIC trainers

Nino Gunjaca: Ministry of Physical Planning, Construction and State Assets, Croatia

The course was a great learning experience as topics were broken down into details tackling many relevant issues with FIDIC Contracts. Work exercises showed how complex situation can arise anytime and a good knowledge and understanding of the FIDIC Contracts is crucial, and we learnt some of the knowledge on the course
I would recommend the course to other professionals

Keijo Tikkala : SRV Group Ltd, Finland

I found the course excellent because have used FIDIC earlier on projects
Presentation of Parties was good especially Engineer's role
Practical examples are always interesting
Location fine and group was not too big
I would recommend the course to other professionals

E. C. Holla – Founder Edwin Holla Consultancy B.V.

For many years, I have participated in FIDIC courses organized by ECV. Following the COVID-19 pandemic, I was pleased to learn that in-person courses were being offered once again. I seized the opportunity to reconnect with David and Marcus and to deepen my understanding of the amendments to the 2017 suite of documents.

I found this course to be an excellent learning experience, facilitated by knowledgeable and experienced tutors. The interactive approach, which combines explanations of contractual clauses with practical project case studies, greatly enhanced the learning process.

I highly recommend ECV's courses and look forward to attending additional modules in the future.
